

Founder and CEO of EchoPixel, a startup company pioneering medical imaging VR/AR solutions that are defining a new visualization paradigm Holographic Therapy Guidance (HTG), which allows doctors to perform minimally invasive surgeries using a digital twin of the patient that they experience as a hologram.

Mr. Aguirre has been awarded numerous recognitions in entrepreneurship and technology development from Intel and Mexico's Science Council. He holds a B.Sc. and M.Sc. in Electrical Engineering from ITESM in Monterrey Mexico.